The Taylor Will Case in the Supreme Court-Important Appeal.

THE TAYLOR WILL CASE.

This subject of seeming interminable litigation was again brought up for argument yesterday before Judge Donobue, in Supreme Court, General Term. writ of prohibition granted by the Supreme Court forbidding the Surrogate from recognizing E. H. Tracy and Mrs. Taylor as executor and executrix of the will, and the latter from continuing to act as such executor and executive until further order of the Court. This writ of probabilition was obtained after the Court of Appeals set aside the Eurrogate's decree committing the will to probate, and it is claimed by Kate B. Howland's counsel that Mr. Tracy and Mrs. Taylor are setting at definance the decision of the Court of Appeals, which reversed the decree of the Surrogate. The object of the writ is to compel them to comply with the decision of the Court of Appeals. The writ was returnable yesterday, and after quite an extended argument by counsel the whole matter was laid over till next month for further argument. or the will, and the latter from continuing to act

AN EX-POLICEMAN VINDICATED.

In this case the defendant, Charles G. Sheeney recently a member of the police force, was charged with robbery. He is a respectable looking young man, well and neatly attired, and withal intelligent in appearance. The facts brought out for the pi ecution were as follows :-- On the morning of the 23d of May last a ragpicker, Nicholas Neuboch, was walking along Fifty-second street, and when near the corner of Fourth avenue he was apnear the corner of Fourth avenue he was approached by two men in police uniform, one of whom was the accused. The other man proved to be Officer George Riley. The latter suddenly asked Sheeney if he had any money about his clothes. He replied taat he had not, whereupon Sheeney took hold of his arm and put his hand into his pantaloons pocket, taking therefrom a waitet, which he opened, and in a few minutes threw into a basket which the compiainant carried with him. Riley next took the wallet, and when he returned it a $5 bill was missing. Neuboch demanded back his money, when Riley remarked that if he repeated the demand he would be taken to the station house and locked up for ten or fifteen days. Upon expressing his willingness to go to the station house he was conveyed to within one clock of it, when Riley said, "you —, go home!" and pushed him away. The officer did not take hold of him. The compisinant walked to Fitty-third street, followed part of the way by Riley. When within two doors of the corner a strange man opened a door and addressed him. Riley came up and wanted to know what the conversation was; he proceeded to the corner of Fourth avenue and Fitty-third street, where Sheeney was standing; he asked the complainant if he had received back his money; when he said he had not he clubbed him severely and followed him for half a block, clubbing him the while; he saw the prisoner next at the station house the same evening, but as he thought that his money was to be returned to him he would not identify him; Riley ran away, but the compisinant saw him four days after, since which time he has not be clubed of yone Pritz Meyer, who keeps a lager beer saloon in the region of Fitty-third street, to proached by two men in police uniform, one o

The defence alleged that the complainant was nauced by one Fritz Meyer, who keeps a lager eer saloon in the region of Fity-third street, to ommence the prosecution against Sheeney for he purpose of blackmailing him to the extent of 50 or $100, which was to be divided between the wo. The prisoner denied that he saw the complainant on the day of the robbery, and merely met Riley not the man who was with kiley on the morning of the 23d.

His previous good character was conceded, and the jary, preferring to credit his story to the testimony of the prosecution, acquitted him.

Yesterday, in the United States Circuit Court, the case of the government va. Thomas Butler, Charles Devlin and John Butler was commence before Judge Nathaniel Shipman and a jury. The suit was brought by the United States against the suit was brought by the United States against the defendants to recover $7,000 on a discussive bond, alieged to have been given by Thomas Butler, with Devim and John Butler as securities. It is admitted that the bond is regular and proper on its face; but it is claimed by John Butler and Devim that they signed the bond in blank, under the impression and belief that it was to be filled up with the name of John C. Tallman: that, without any consent on their part, the name of Thomas Butler was put into the bond, and that therefore they did not become surety for any such person. Accordingly they insist that they should not be held responsible for the amount of the bond.

BROOKLYN COURTS.

SUPREME COURT-SPECIAL TERM. The Fordham School Question-Decision of Judge Pratt.

William H. Wilkins vs. The Board of Education of School District No. 1 of the town of West Farms.—The present motion is made on bensif of the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the city of New York. Among other things to open the default and vacate the judgment entered therein on the 28th day of December, 1873. Unless this be granted the other branches of the motion require on the 26th day of December, 1873. Unless this be granted the other branches of the motion require no consideration. The petitioner claims that the defendants have a substantial defence upon the merits; that said mortgage was fraudulent at its inception and made and delivered without warrant of law and in pursuance of a corrupt agreement, that the lunds to be obtained thereby should be diverted from school purposes and fraudulently misapplied by the mortgagors, and that said funds were, with the connivance and consent of the plaintif, so converted and squandered. The allegations centained in the petition are too vague and general. It was the duty of the petitioner to state facts and circumstances, so that the Court could determine to what relief the party is entitied. But, aside from the circumstance that no lacts are set out that would warrant the granting of the relief asked for, every allegation of the petition is fully met and overthrown by the opposing amidavits. It is not dispured that the defendants, by the unanimous vote of its members, resolved to obtain a lean and to secure it by a bond and mortgage on the property described, and that said bond and mortgage was duly made and delivered to the plaintiff. Neither is it controverted that the plaintiff, relying upon the same, duly advanced thereon the sum of $37,000, and that this sum was actually expended by the defendant in building the school house in question. It further appears that the defendants fisiled to pay the interest as stipulated in the bond, whereupon the plaintiff commenced this suit to foreclose the mortgage, and obtained judgment in due course upon delanit. On the question of laches on the part of defendants, it is also important to notice the conduct of the parties after entry of judgment. On the 26th day of January, 1874, the plaintiff served upon the city of New York notice of the entry of judgment, to which no particular attention was paid. On the 20th day of May following, he sent a further communication to the Mayor, Compitoler and no consideration. The petitioner claims that the execute the mortgage, and the plaintiff in good naith advanced the money thereon. It is clear that the city of New York can only interpose such defences to the judgment of this mortgage as could be interposed by the defendant. (Chapter 613, Laws of 1873; chapter 322, Laws of 1874.) By chapter 407 of laws of 1864 the general powers of a corporation under the Revised Statutes were conferred on the defendants. These powers embrace the authority to purchase and hold real estate necessary to the purposes of the corporation. The power to establish free schools was also expressly delegated, and this authority included all incidental powers eccessary to carry out the purpose contemplated by the act. Under these powers I think the defendants might lawfolly purchase a site, build a school-house, borrow the necessary money therefor and secure its payment by bind and mortgage. (Retchim vs. City of Buffalo, 14 N. Y., 36; Curtiss vs. Leavitt, 15 N. Y., p. 9; People ex rel Hayden vs. City of Rochester, 50, N. Y., p. 531.) It hese views are correct it follows that no case is made out that would justify an order vacating the judgment herein. The motion is therefore denied with $10 costs.

CAPTURE OF COUNTERFEITING PLATES.

A thorough overhauling of the furniture of the celebrated lorger, Jack Canter, or North Carolina, recently arrested in Brooklyn by Detectives Folk and Corwin, of that city, and Robert Pinkerton, of this city, has resulted in the following discovery :-In a secret drawer of his working table there was In a secret drawer of his working table there was found a two cent postage stamp plate, while a tares cent intornal revenue stamp plate was found in a secret drawer of his washstand. Both these plates, which are counterfeits, have been seen by Colonel Washburne, Chief of the Secret Service Department, who will soon take possession of them and prefer charges against Canter for their possession. Both plates are superbly engraved, and the forgery is pronounced excellent. At the present moment they are in the hands of Detective Pinkerton, who recently took Canter on to Philadelphia to answer a charge of lorgery. Canter is about flity-five years of age and has spent upward of twenty years in prison.

ANOTHER BEIDGE WANTED.

The business done by the Park Commissioners a their meeting yesterday was of an unimportant nature, their funds being only sufficient to con-tinue the work absolutely necessary in the parks. The Commissioners received a memorial from 327 citizens of the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth wards, which are beyond the Harlem River, asking for a bridge across that stream from the termin for a bridge across that stream from the terminus of 13sth street, to the end of Madison avenue. The petitioners represent to the Commissioners that their facilities for reaching the central portion of the city are limited by the lack of this bridge; that they are, in a measure cut off from visiting Mount Morris square and the Central Park, and that the Third avenue bridge is not a large enough outlet for the traffic. They propose that the Department of Parks shall build a wooden pile drawbridge at a cost of about $75,000. The Commissioners reserved the petision for action at their next meeting.

DIPHTHERIA.

The Prevailing Epidemic-Its Extent and Character—How to Avoid It.

The epidemic of the season is diphtheria. The returns for the past week of the Board of Health show an increase in the number of deaths from this disease as compared with previous weeks. It is stated, however, by Dr. Harris, one of the medical officers of the Board, that the average is not seyond that of previous years. The actual number of deaths from this disease during the week is 46. In the Twentieth ward the largest mor-tailty was reported, the number of deaths from the disease in that section being 8. In the Twenty. was sold under foreclosure, but previous to the sale the mortgager arranged with the mortgager to buy it in for him, agreeing to pay $1,000 and asking him to hold it for thirty days. The latter, as further stated, took the deed in his own name and refused to convey it to Mr. Vandeville. The reply to this is that the mortgager never offered to redeem the property and was not ready to do so at the expiration of the thirty days. Suit has been at the expiration of the thirty days. Suit has been dents of analises near Sixth avenue and fifty-greater than in the city. This is notably the case on Staten Island, where diputher is has been prevalent for some time. The persons attacted are generally young in years, none in New York city, as reported, being more than fourteen years of age. The prevailing causes which aid the development of diphtheria are said by the physicians to be damp surroundings, impure air and a lack of cleanliness. This is established by the fact that the disease has manifested itself in a more virulent form and more numerously in some of the large tenement houses of the east side than in less populated districts of the city. That the disease can be checked in its incipiency has been established by a circumstance that came recently under the notice of Dr. Elisha Harris. The Doctor says that a few weeks ago he was applied to by a proprietor of one of the largest and most clowded hotels of the city for advice in reference to what he was airid was an outbreak of diphtheria in the hotel. He reported that there were two cases on one of the floors, and the Doctor recommended that all the rooms on that floor be thoroughly cleaned and ventilated. This was done, and other precautionary measures were taken, the result of which yes that the hotel keeper had no more trouble, and the olsease did not spread heyond those two cases. It is important that the greatest promptitude should be shown in sending for a physician, inasunch as diphtheris requires the most careful medical treatment and trained nursing. With ordinary personal and household care the number of victims from this disease may be considerably diminished.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The City Superintendent's Repor and the Teachers to Co-operate in Taking a Census of Children Who Do Not Go to School.

The Board of Education met yesterday afternoon

t their rooms, Eim and Grand streets, Commis stoner Beardslee in the chair.

The report of the City Superintendent on the condition of the corporate schools of the city stated that there are forty-two such schools, with 163 teachers and an attendance of pupils numbering 8,478, the average attendance for the previous month being 6,866, and that the instruction and discipline were excellent, the text books being for the most part the same as those used in the public schools. The corporate schools include the Orphan Asylum, Leake and Watts Orphan

Mrs. Ottendorfer, by a communication which was read, added $500 to ner original donation of $1,000 for the purchase of two medals for proficiency of pupils in the German language.

The number of pupils in the evening schools October 5 was 11,533 of both sexes; the number in evening high school, 1,581; the average attendance, including the colored schools, 11,562.

In regard to the compulsory Education act, which takes effect January, 1875, the Committee on Hylaws Paported that the Police Board had constitued to make the census of children who do not attend school. A resolution was adopted instructing the teachers to co-operate with the police in this matter and thus secure an accurate census of the absentees.

Resolutions were offered at a previous meeting permitting the teachers to send the janitors on errands, complaints having been made that the pupils were obliged to do all the errands for teachers, and the Committee on Bylaws reported in favor of admitting children of ten years of age to the evening schools. The object of this recommendation was to meet the requirements of the compulsory Education act. There are a large number of children in the city who support their parents or relatives by their work, and the resolution almed not to have these boys disturbed. The resolution was adopted.

Miss Mary C. Hackett was appointed Principal of the Primary Department of Grammar Schools. The wards of the Sevententh ward.

BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT. The Budget for 1875-What the Departments Require. The adjourned meeting of this Board was held yesterday, all the members present, the Mayor presiding. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Mr. Dunbam, Keeper of Ludlow Street Jail, transmitted a number of bills for various outlays and requests the Board to authorize the Comptroller to transfer certain balances of moneys unappropriated for the purpose of paying the same.

A bill for printing the estimates for 1874, by Martin B. Brown, was rendered and referred to

Resolved, That the secretary be instructed to have the budget, as made up in accordance with the above resolution, printed in convenient form for the use of the members.
